

Get in on the act

Channel your inner thesp in a home on the spot where Benedict Cumberbatch, Jim Broadbent and Ruth Wilson once trod the boards. Previously owned by the London Academy of Music and Dramatic Art, the Michael MacOwan Theatre has been converted into 10 luxury apartments by Mayfield. The developer is offering a mix of one- to four-bedroom flats, and the scene-stealers each have a private terrace with views of Kensington. There's underground parking, too. Prices start at £1.375m for a one-bedder, rising to an eye-watering £5.5m for a flat with four bedrooms.
